PROJECTS

Vulpine

University of Florida

90 days

A ground-up reimagining of Firefox OS written in C++ and WebAssembly. Its goal is to bring native performance to web browser applications.

ADDITIONAL EXPERIENCE

Illustration and 3D Modeling

Academic and Independent

Most of my free time is dedicated towards developing skills related to character design and animation.

Interactive Media Programming

Independent

I enjoy programming behavior trees and pathfinding in enemy AI. I am very fond of optimizing code, both in performance and readability.

Generative Adversarial Networks

Academic and Independent

While mostly a hobby, I enjoy creating and tinkering with GAN-based machine learning. I am primarily experienced with PyTorch, an open source deep learning framework.

MY LIFE PHILOSOPHY

Supporting others is the most imperative action we can do in our lives.

VOLUNTEER WORK

UF Health Shands Hospital

A wonderful opportunity to shadow medical professionals and care for elderly or recovering patients.

Camp Chance

Assisted councilors in daily tasks and supported young people at Brevard county youth-enrichment camp.
